

Equitable Opportunity Division

In our organisation, the Equal opportunity Cell (EOC) was created to uphold the values of diversity, inclusivity, and equal opportunity. Due to sociocultural and economic constraints, as well as settings that are incapacitating, people with disabilities and marginalised populations frequently confront substantial challenges. Discrimination based on physical limitations or disabilities is a grave transgression of human rights, equality principles, and constitutional duties. Within our organisation, the Equal opportunity Cell (EOC) was created to uphold the values of diversity, inclusivity, and equal opportunity. Due to sociocultural and economic constraints, as well as settings that are incapacitating, people with disabilities and marginalised populations frequently confront substantial challenges. Discrimination based on physical limitations or disabilities is a grave transgression of human rights, equality principles, and constitutional duties.

The Equal Opportunities Cell (EOC) is committed to advancing affirmative action for underrepresented groups in society, such as women, people with disabilities, members of SC, ST, and OBC categories who are ineligible for scholarships, and members of minority languages and religions.

Alms

To encourage fairness in opportunities

To stop discrimination of any kind

To create a welcoming atmosphere

To educate people about their constitutionally protected rights

Members of the Equal Opportunity Cell Committee for 2022-2023

SL NO	Name	Designation
1	Dr.Murahi. S	Principal, Chairman
2	Prof. Sujatha .M	Vice Principal, E- attestation officer
3	Prof. Suresh	HOD, Commerce
4	Prof. Parvathi S P	Faculty E- attestation officer
5	Ajay kumar NB	Office assistant